

WHY ATTEND A SUPPORT SESSION?

Here's what our reading volunteers think...

“It was very useful to hear the experience the other volunteers have been having with their students. To me personally, it did already feel like a community.”

“As a company, we only launched the programme in March this year. I found it really valuable to hear the questions raised by others, as they highlighted areas I may not have considered myself. The tips shared were also very helpful and practical. It was great to be part of a Teams call full of people who are all enthusiastic and committed to helping these pupils develop confidence, reading ability and a love of reading.”

“Really useful session just to hear other peoples stories and to hear that they face similar scenarios to you, good session to share ideas on how to handle certain situations.”

“As someone who has recently started, I found listening to peoples experiences and tips very useful. I think we will all come up against something and we will need the help/ advice of our fellow volunteers. Definitely something you should keep doing.”

“Hearing ideas and experiences, even struggles, from other volunteers is really helpful and encouraging. Being able to submit questions beforehand is great too.”
